

Druk Path Trek

Druk Path Trek is one of the finest short and most popular treks in Bhutan. Leading through an ancient trading route over high mountain passes, it connects the valleys of Paro and Thimphu. The trail passes through spectacular rhododendron forests, alpine yak pastures, and beautiful lakes stocked with trout. Druk Path Trek is also a very easy trek as the distance between every campsite is fairly short. This trek also offers trekkers stunning views of Mt. Jomolhari (7,314m) and Gangkhar Puensum (7,654m), the highest unclimbed peak in the world. The best times to embark on this trek are between March-April and September-November.

Day-by-Day Itinerary

Day 1: Arrive at Paro

Paro | 2,280m

You will be received by the representative from Byways Tours and Travels at the airport and driven to the hotel. After lunch, visit Ta Dzong, an ancient watchtower built in 1656 and renovated in 1968, now converted into the National Museum of Bhutan. Then visit Rinpung Dzong (Paro Dzong), built in 1646 by Zhabdrung Ngawang Namgyal. The dzong presently houses the administrative offices of Paro District and the monastery. Dinner and overnight in hotel.

Meals: L/D | Hotel in Paro

Day 2: Paro Sightseeing

Paro | 2,280m | 5h hike

After breakfast, take an excursion to Tiger's Nest Monastery. A short drive of around 25 minutes from the main town of Paro takes you to Satsam Chorten, where the trail climbs through beautiful pine forest, many of the trees festooned with Spanish moss, and an occasional grove of fluttering prayer flags. We stop for rest and tea with cookies at the Taksang cafeteria, then walk a short distance until we see, clearly and seemingly within reach, Tiger's Nest Monastery. The history dates back to the 8th century when Guru Rinpoche, a tantric master, flew to this place on the back of a flying tigress, said to be his Tibetan consort known as Khandro Yeshe Tsogyal, and meditated in a cave nearby. The temple was built in the 17th century by the Penlop (governor) of Paro, Gyaltse Tenzin Rabgye. This incredible monastery clings to the edge of a sheer rock cliff that plunges 600 meters into the valley below. After lunch, visit Drukgyel Dzong, built in 1644 by Zhabdrung Ngawang Namgyal to commemorate the victory over Tibetan invaders. The dzong is now in ruins because it was completely burned down by a fire caused by a butter lamp in 1951. The name "Drukgyel" means "Victorious Druk." The dzong was used as an administrative center until 1951. Then visit Kyichu Lhakhang, one of Bhutan's oldest Buddhist temples, built in 659 AD by the Tibetan king Songtsen Gampo. In the evening, stroll around the tiny town of Paro. Dinner and overnight in the hotel.

Meals: B/L/D | Hotel in Paro

Day 3: Paro to Jele Dzong - Trek Starts

Paro to Jele Dzong | 3,480m | 4-5 hours | 7 km

Today is the first day of your trek, which starts from Ta Dzong (National Museum) where you need to climb to the campsite through blue pine forest in Paro. The trek follows a gravel road past a few farms for about 30 minutes before you start your real trek. Once you reach the ridge below Jele Dzong, you descend about 100m to the campsite below the dzong.

Meals: B/L/D | Camping

Day 4: Jele Dzong to Tshokam

Jele Dzong to Tshokam | 3,770m | 4-5 hours | 10 km

You begin with a steep climb for about 20 minutes, then the slope evens out a bit and the ascent becomes more gradual. Today you will enjoy your walk a lot because you have every kind of terrain: ascent, descent, and flat sections with good views of snow-capped mountains if the weather is clear. The trail takes you through thick alpine forests and dwarf rhododendron trees. You may see yak herders and their yaks around your campsite.

Meals: B/L/D | Camping

Day 5: Tshokam to Jimelangtsho

Tshokam to Jimelangtsho | 3,870m | 5-6 hours | 11 km

The trail follows a ridge and on a clear day the views of the mountains and valley are simply stunning. The campsite is close to Jimelang Tsho Lake. This lake is known for its giant-sized trout. If you are lucky, you will get a chance to taste the trout.

Meals: B/L/D | Camping

Day 6: Jimelangtsho to Phajoding

Jimelangtsho to Phajoding | 4,110m | 5-6 hours | 15 km

The trail takes you through dwarf rhododendron trees and past Janetso Lake. You may come across some yak herder camps where you will have the opportunity to get a glimpse of a nomad's life. If the weather is clear, in the far distance you will also get a chance to see a good view of Mt. Gangkhar Puensum (7,654m), the highest snow-capped mountain in Bhutan. The campsite for today will be at a good viewpoint overlooking Thimphu city.

Meals: B/L/D | Camping

Day 7: Phajoding to Thimphu - Trek Ends

Phajoding to Thimphu | 2,350m | 2-3 hours | 7 km

Today is the last day of your trek where you only need to descend down to Thimphu city. After lunch, you can relax in the hotel and walk around the city in the evening.

Meals: B/L/D | Hotel in Thimphu

Day 8: Thimphu Sightseeing

Thimphu | 2,350m

After breakfast, visit National Memorial Chorten, which was built in 1974 by the mother of our third king in memory of the third king, Jigme Dorji Wangchuck. The paintings and statues in the temple are dedicated to the third king. Then visit the tallest statue of Buddha Dordenma (51 meters tall). After that, visit the Mini Zoo where you will get a chance to see our national animal, the Takin. Finally, visit Tashichho Dzong and stroll around Thimphu city for shopping. Dinner and overnight in hotel.

Meals: B/L/D | Hotel in Thimphu

Day 9: Departure

Paro Airport | 2,280m

Early morning, drive to Paro Airport for your departure flight. Farewell!
